

What's the Buzz?

National STEM Scholar Program
Hannah Odom
Lee County Middle School East Campus
Leesburg, Georgia

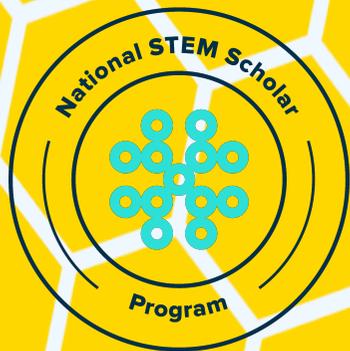

Project Overview:

Students worked on a Problem Based Learning Project to understand the role of bees in our ecosystem, why there is a decline in the honey bee species, and what students can do in their community to help combat this decline.

Agriculture STEM Class Project:

Students built beehives in our community and have been maintaining the hives and harvesting honey throughout the school year.
